DISABILITY ACCESS AND INCLUSION PLAN

2020-2024

Government of South Australia
Department of the Premier and Cabinet

Statement from the Chief Executive

I am pleased to present the Department of the Premier and Cabinet's Disability Access and Inclusion Plan. Through this plan, the department will continue to uphold the rights of people living with disability to access the services and programs we deliver, and to foster a work environment which is genuinely inclusive.

The department's key business is to deliver specialist policy advice to the Premier and Ministers, support the Cabinet process and provide direction and leadership to the South Australian public sector. Through the role the department plays, we will advocate for government policy that is inclusive of people with disability.

Over the years the department has demonstrated a strong commitment to access and inclusion. We have improved access to our public buildings, arts and cultural collections, festivals and events. We have improved website accessibility and have led the ICT industry with the development of the Online Accessibility Policy and Toolkit.

In 2018 we developed our first departmental Diversity and Inclusion Framework and established a Diversity and Inclusion Advisory Committee to provide the department with advice from our own employees with lived experience of disability.

This Plan features continuous access improvements for our facilities, community programs and services, and communications and events. Universal Design will be central to our future approach to ensure we provide access and inclusion for all people.

We will continue to lead the way in Online Accessibility through providing best-practice guidance to South Australian Government agencies to enhance accessibility of their websites and online services.

Our commitment to the employment of people with disability remains strong with our alumni partnership with JobAccess and mechanisms in place to promote the department's vacancies to all Disability Employment Service providers. We recognise that it's not enough to just employ people with disability. We also need to provide an inclusive workplace. We will achieve this through disability awareness training, removal of barriers often faced by people with disability such as incorrect assumptions around their abilities, and ensuring all staff have access to information and resources to help them support employees with disability.

This Plan demonstrates our commitment to contribute to an inclusive South Australian community that genuinely welcomes, respects and values all citizens.

Acknowledgement of Country

The Department of the Premier and Cabinet acknowledges and respects Aboriginal people as the state's first people and nations, and recognises Aboriginal people as traditional owners and occupants of South Australian land and waters.

Disability Inclusion Act 2018

The South Australian Disability Inclusion Act 2018 (the Act) provides a legal framework to support equal access and inclusion for people living with disability in community activities and services including recreation, education, health, and public transport.

The Act aligns with the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities and with the Australian National Disability Strategy 2010–2020, and required the creation of the South Australian Disability Inclusion Plan (the Plan). The first South Australian Plan came into effect on 31 October 2019.

The Act also mandates the development of DAIPs for each State Authority (Part 5 s16).

About the department

The Department of the Premier and Cabinet (DPC) is the lead agency supporting the Premier and Cabinet by developing policy and delivering programs to realise the government's vision for South Australia.

The department:

 1. Aboriginal community support and advice
 2. promoting Aboriginal Reconciliation and employment diversity
 3. multicultural affairs support and advice
 4. leading and developing the state's strategic agenda across the arts, cultural and creative sector delivering funding, support, advice and coordination to the sector
 5. caring for the state's collections, buildings and other assets within the arts, cultural and creative sector.
- leads whole of government reforms and initiatives to drive the Premier's vision for South Australia
- drives key government initiatives which are of importance to the state at any time
- leads policy reform and delivers effective platforms for an across government strategic approach to communications, community engagement, cyber security, and digital technology and infrastructure.

This DAIP includes the following Cultural Institutions, as part of DPC:

- South Australian Museum
- State Library of South Australia, including Public Library Services
- Art Gallery of South Australia
- Carrick Hill.

Staff profile

As at 30 June 2020, DPC and the included Cultural Institutions, employed 731 people. Of these, 22 people, equating to 3% of the workforce, self-identified as having some form of disability.

Our vision

The Premier and the Cabinet can fulfil their objectives for South Australia and deliver outcomes for the South Australian community.

We aim to be an accessibility confident department, eliminating barriers and creating an environment of inclusion, respect and dignified access for all employees and members of the public accessing our services.

Actions

The DPC Disability Access and Inclusion Plan is structured around the priority areas and actions of the Inclusive SA: State Disability Inclusion Plan (table 1 State Disability Inclusion Plan priorities) and takes into consideration the areas of policy action under the National Disability Strategy 2010–2020.

Table 1 State Disability Inclusion Plan priorities

Inclusive communities for all

Social inclusion is a priority for people living with disability as it affects all aspects of their lives. It is our aim that the contributions and rights of people living with disability are valued and understood by all South Australians and that their rights are promoted, upheld and protected. We also want to ensure that people living with disability are supported to advocate for their own rights.

State Plan Priority 1	Involvement in the community
State Plan Priority 2	Improving community understanding and awareness
State Plan Priority 3	Promoting the rights of people living with disability

Leadership and collaboration

People living with disability want to have a greater role in leading and contributing to government and community decision-making. It is our aim that the perspectives of people living with disability are actively sought and that they are supported to participate meaningfully in government and community consultation and engagement activities.

State Plan Priority 4	Participation in decision-making
State Plan Priority 5	Leadership and raising profile
State Plan Priority 6	Engagement and consultation

Accessible communities

The accessibility of the built environment, quality services and information is key to ensuring people living with disability are included and have the opportunity to equally participate in all aspects of community life. It is our aim to increase accessibility to public and community infrastructure, transport, services, information, sport and recreation and the greater community.

State Plan Priority 7	Universal Design across South Australia
State Plan Priority 8	Accessible and available information
State Plan Priority 9	Access to services

Learning and employment

Workforce participation is fundamental to social inclusion. It provides economic independence and choice, social connections and friendships, value, identity and belonging. It is our aim that people living with disability have access to inclusive places of study, and that education and training provide pathways to meaningful and inclusive employment and volunteering opportunities.

State Plan Priority 10	Better supports within educational and training settings
State Plan Priority 11	Skill development through volunteering and support in navigating the pathway between learning and earning
State Plan Priority 12	Improved access to employment opportunities and better support within workplaces

Disability access and inclusion plan development and implementation

Consultation process, findings and strategies

DPC undertook initial consultation with the DPC Diversity and Inclusion Advisory Committee, of which membership includes employees who identify as having disability. Consultation proceeded with all Directors, Executive Directors or appropriate contacts from each division of the department.

A draft was presented for public consultation, with a call for submissions from the public through the YourSAy Disability Access and Inclusion consultation Hub from 13 August to 11 September 2020. Throughout this period, this was promoted through YourSAy's social media channels and newsletters as well as through DPC's social medial channels.

Concurrently, the draft was presented to all DPC employees for feedback.

Feedback was received from members of the public and employees within the Department. Responses varied from overall positive to feedback which reflected the general frustrations of individuals with disability and/or carers and the experiences and barriers faced when generally accessing public services, facilities and events. Feedback also reflected a general distrust in the department following through on commitments. What became evident from the feedback received, was the need to not only provide a stronger focus on all people with disability being able to access services, but to also better inform the public on the accessibility of our venues, services and events.

Additional feedback was provided to the YourSAy team reflecting a desire for all South Australian Public Sector Agencies and councils to consider a broader range of accessible and inclusive methods to consult with members of the public with disability.

Relationship to other policies, strategies, frameworks

The DAIP supports and complements:

- DPC Diversity and Inclusion Framework
- DPC Respectful Treatment at Work Policy
- DPC Reasonable Workplace Adjustments Procedure
- Government of South Australia Online Accessibility Policy.

Examples of previous achievements

- In 2017, in collaboration with the Attorney-General's Department, DPC developed an online Disability Awareness and Inclusion online course for public sector employees. This course is currently used by a number of agencies across the South Australian Public Sector
- Establishment of the DPC Diversity and Inclusion Framework 2019-2020
- Establishment of the DPC Diversity and Inclusion Advisory Committee in 2019, including employee members who identify as having disability
- Development of the DPC Reasonable Workplace Adjustment procedure
- Development of the DPC Universal Design Procedure
- Development of the Online Accessibility Policy and Toolkit
- The development and delivery of accessibility programs within the South Australian Museum and the Art Gallery of South Australia, such as Auslan interpreted tours and tours for the visually impaired and programs for people with Autism

Implementation

The DPC DAIP will be launched through online communications to all employees, contractors, volunteers and the South Australian community. It will be available on the department's intranet and website in Easy Read and Word formats, and can be made available in other accessible formats and languages upon request.

Monitoring and review

The DPC Diversity and Advisory Committee will support the monitoring and implementation of this DAIP. Progress against this DAIP will be reported to the DPC Executive Leadership Team annually by 31 July, and to the Minister for Human Services by 31 October each year.

In accordance with the Act, the department will formally review the DAIP at least every four years.

Glossary and definitions

Accessibility

Accessibility is about ensuring that people with disability have equal access to programs, employment, training, goods and services, premises, communication, information and technology.

Auslan

Auslan is the majority sign language of the Australian Deaf community.

Cultural Institutions

The department includes the following cultural institutions:

- Art Gallery of South Australia
- South Australian Museum
- State Library of South Australia, including Public Library Services
- Carrick Hill.

Culturally and Linguistically Diverse

Culturally and Linguistically Diverse (CALD), also referred to as multicultural, refers to the diversity of people from different countries, including English-speaking countries, have different cultural backgrounds, can speak more than one language, are from different regions in Australia and/or align with different religions.

Disability

The social model of disability defines disability as a result of the interaction between features of an individual (their medical condition) and features of society (the environment) in which they participate, where features of a society include attitudes, communication, natural and built environment, services, systems and policies, employment and activities, that may create barriers to participation. For the purposes of data collection, the department relies on employees self-identifying as having disability.

Inclusion

Inclusion is about embracing and harnessing our diverse resources. It is about removing attitudinal, behavioural and physical barriers so that everyone feels valued and respected, has equal access to opportunities, and is empowered to participate and contribute their skills and perspectives to their workplace and society.

Intersectionality

Intersectionality refers to the concept of a person or group of people's with more than one social or political identities that combine to create unique modes of discrimination and privilege. For example, a culturally and linguistically diverse person who also identifies as having disability.

JobAccess

An Australian Government national hub for workplace and employment information for people with disability, employers and service providers.

Reasonable workplace adjustment

A reasonable workplace adjustment is any adjustment to the workplace to accommodate a person with disability to fulfil the inherent duties of a role that does not significantly affect or disrupt the business operation of the workplace, put at risk clients or co-workers or cause unjustifiable hardship.

Richard Llewellyn Arts and Disability Program

The Richard Llewellyn Arts and Disability Program supports projects and initiatives by South Australian practising professional Deaf and disabled artists.

Individual artists, organisations and groups can apply where Deaf and disabled artists are the project initiators and primary beneficiaries of the funding.

Unconscious bias

Unconscious bias refers to a bias that we are unaware of, happens automatically and which happens outside of our control. It is our brain's way of making quick judgments and assessments of people and situations, using our background, cultural environment and personal experiences over our lifespan. Unconscious bias is reflected in the prejudices and stereotypes that are deeply seated within us as a result of our socialisation.

Universal design

Universal design involves creating facilities, built environments, products and services that can be used by people of all abilities, to the greatest extent possible, without adaptations.
